Dear Parents/Guardians,

RE: Owls class recruitment

Further to my letter dated 10th January 2018, we are working through the recruitment process for a new class teacher. I am pleased to say that this is moving positively, however, because of the timeframe within which teachers have to work notice periods, we are not able to secure a new permanent teacher to start before the summer term in April.

As always we have been striving to keep as much consistency for the children as possible. We are delighted to have been joined by Mrs Diane Guerrard who has been teaching in Owls regularly this term. She is a very experienced and dedicated teacher and the pupils have been having a fantastic time in class with her. The atmosphere is always calm and purposeful when I pop in with busy, active and happy children. We are equally delighted that Mr Honey has agreed to teach in Owls for two days per week in addition to his teaching in Kestrels class.

From next week and until the end of March therefore, the teaching in Owls class will be arranged as follows:

Monday & Tuesday: Mr Nigel Honey

Wednesday, Thursday & Friday: Mrs Diane Guerrard

I will continue to work closely with the Owls teaching and support staff to complete assessments and lead the planning for the class. Miss Karen Green will also support the planning for the year 1 pupils to ensure consistency between the classes. I will also be available for appointments at parents evening to talk to you about your child's progress in school.

If you have any specific concerns which cannot be addressed at parent's evening, please contact Mrs Horan in the office to make an appointment or contact me by email though the office email address.

Thank you for your understanding and continued support.
